

AFFINIX™: DESIGNED WITH PURPOSE

How does the Affinix Interview Management solution stack up against other products?

Affinix™ is an award-winning talent acquisition technology platform that is built for the future of work. Our Affinix Virtual Interview Management solution allows your organization to safely and effectively manage the candidate journey while remaining compliant. Tracking, process management and reporting features are included. These features are critical to sustained success and are not available with video conferencing tools designed for a different purpose. When compared to other video conferencing products, the difference is clear.
